A diverse group of people, including men and women of various ages and ethnicities, are seated in a classroom-like setting. Several individuals are in wheelchairs. A light-colored dog is sitting in the foreground. The background wall is covered with numerous small flags and language labels. The overall atmosphere is inclusive and educational.

Intro: Disability Inclusion

What is Disability Inclusion?

- Inclusion is: All people belong to:
 - Society;
 - Workplace;
 - Shops;
 - Communities
- Regardless of their gender, religion, ethnical background, sexual identity, disabilities
- Disability Inclusion is the bold focus on the last part: “People With Disabilities”
- Why: Too much forgotten group in modern vision about inclusion.

Disability Spectrum

Difficulty	Permanent	Temporary	Situational
Reading	Blindness	Eye Infection	Aging
Writing	Dyslexia	Stressed	Distracted in Public Transport
Understanding	Down Syndrome	Dementia	In a new country
Daily Life	Autism/ Down Syndrome	A Concussion	A new parent
Professional & Societal Life	Autism, ADHD	Recovering from health problem/ surgery	In a new job

Hidden & Unknown disabilities

- Undiagnosed disabilities
- Difficulties you never experienced (overprotection, family as job giver)
- Can be a reason for burnout & severe depression

Tomorrow I have a cocktail party with my partner's jobgivers. I am nervous to understand how to greet in a good way. Can you make me some suggestions?

✓ Antwoorden voor u genereren...

Absolutely, I can help with that! Here are some tips to help you make a great impression:

1. Warm Greeting: Start with a warm smile and a firm handshake. A simple "Hello, it's a pleasure to meet you" goes a long way.
2. Introduce Yourself: If you're meeting someone for the first time, introduce yourself clearly. Mention your connection to the host, like "Hi, I'm [Your Name], [Partner's Name]'s colleague."
3. Engage in Small Talk: Have a few conversation starters ready. You can comment on the venue, the food, or ask about their interests. For example, "This venue is lovely, have you been here before?" or "I heard [Host's Name] was here?"
4. Be Attentive: Show genuine interest in the conversation. Nod, smile, and ask follow-up questions to show you're engaged.
5. Mingle: Try to move around and talk to different people. This shows you're sociable and interested in meeting new people.
6. Compliments: A sincere compliment can break the ice. It could be about their outfit, the event, or something they've said.

That's okay! Small talk can be challenging for many people. Here are some tips to help you feel more comfortable:

1. Prepare Topics: Think of a few general topics in advance, like recent movies, books, or hobbies. These can give you a starting point.
2. Ask Open-Ended Questions: Questions that require more than a yes or no answer keep the conversation flowing. For example, "What do you enjoy most about your job?" or "Have you traveled anywhere interesting recently?"
3. Listen Actively: Show interest in what the other person is saying. Nod, make eye contact, and ask follow-up questions or comments.
4. Share a Little About Yourself: When appropriate, share a bit about your own experiences. This can make the conversation more balanced and engaging.
5. Use the Environment: Comment on the party, the food, or the music. For example, "The food looks delicious, have you tried them?" or "This music is great, do you know who the artist is?"
6. Practice: Like any skill, small talk gets easier with practice. Try having brief conversations with new people in everyday encounters in daily life, like baristas or store clerks.

Remember, it's perfectly fine to have brief pauses in conversation. People appreciate genuine interest and

Is there enoch color contrast on this popup? If not, what should I change?

Copilot

✓ De afbeelding analyseren: gezichten kunnen wazig zijn om privacy te beschermen

The color contrast in your popup looks mostly good, especially with the white text on the black text on the white background. However, the secondary action button ("Minimale cookies aanvaarden") could use some improvement. The grey text on a light grey background might not be as readable.

To enhance the contrast, you could:

1. Darken the text on the secondary button to black or a darker shade of grey.
2. Lighten the background of the secondary button to a lighter shade, or even white, to make the text more.

Would you like any more specific suggestions or help with anything else?
